

Boris in the boat

Boris wakes up.
It is still early.
Outside it is still dark.
The streetlights are on.

Baby sis is in her cot.
Baby sis is crying.
Mummy and Daddy are asleep.
Their door is closed.

Boris goes to baby sis' cot.
Baby sis cannot get out of her cot.
Why are you crying? Boris asks.
Baby sis does not reply.

What now, Boris?
Boris climbs into the cot.
Look, Boris is sitting in the cot,
together with baby sis.
Baby sis stops crying.

Shall we play?
Your cot is a boat.
And I am the captain.
I have a captain's hat.
And I have to stand in front.

Hold on, sis, the captain says.
Water is splashing into the boat.
Oh no! A big fish!
A big blue fish jumps out of the water.

Look, it has a big mouth.
That's a big fish.
Quick, sis, we'll hide under the blanket.
Boris and sis hide under the blanket.

Where is the big fish?
Boris takes a peep.

No, it is still there!
Baby sis laughs.
She is not afraid of the big fish.

Shall I take another peep?
Boris takes another peep.
Yep! The big fish has gone.
