

Boris is not feeling well

Boris is not feeling well.
He is lying on the couch.
So is Bear.

Open your mouth! Mummy says.
She gives Boris a spoonful of syrup.
That is cough syrup.
Yummee?
Yes, Yummee.
But Boris is still coughing.

Sshht! Mummy says.
You are as white as a dishcloth.
Go to sleep.

That is what Boris does.
He closes his eyes and goes to sleep.

Aw! What now!
Mummy pulls Boris off the couch.
She throws him in de laundry basket.
But I don't want to go in the laundry basket!

Sshht! Mummy says.
You are as white as a dishcloth.
Go to sleep.
The laundry basket swings to and fro.
Mummy picks up the laundry basket and goes out.

She throws Boris over the clothes line.
As white as a dishcloth! Mummy says.
Next to Boris, there is another dishcloth.

And a bath towel.
And look, there is Bear.
With a peg in his ear.
Ai, ai, Bear says.
I can't help you, says Boris.
I am not feeling well.

Then the wind starts to blow.
Boris and Bear are swinging in the wind.
Watch out! Boom! There goes Bear!
What now, Boris?

Boris wakes up.
Bear is lying on the floor.
Come here Bear, says Boris.
It was just a dream.
