

Boris takes the train

Boris and Bear are happy.
Why are they happy?
They are going to take the train.

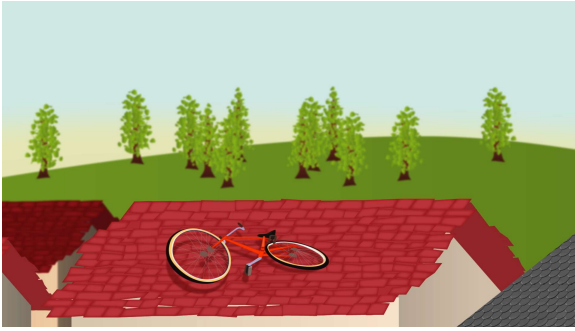

Hop on! Daddy says.
Boris and Bear hop on.
The train man blows his whistle.
Then, the door closes. Here we go!

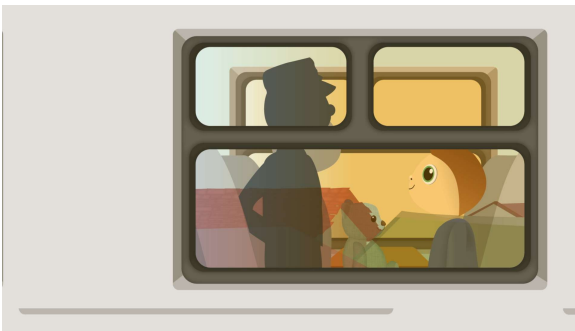

Boris is sitting at the window.
Now you have to stay put, Daddy says.
Bear is sitting on the little table.
Now you have to stay put, Boris says.

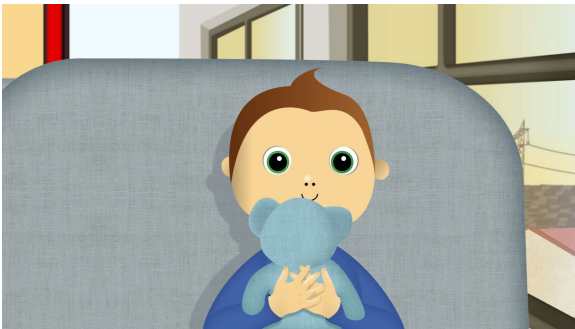

The train goes very fast.
Boris can see the roofs of the houses.
Look, two pigeons!
Do the pigeons live there?
Yes, they live there, says Daddy.
That is their home.

And look there, a bike!
Why is there a bike on the roof?
Strange! says Daddy. I don't know.

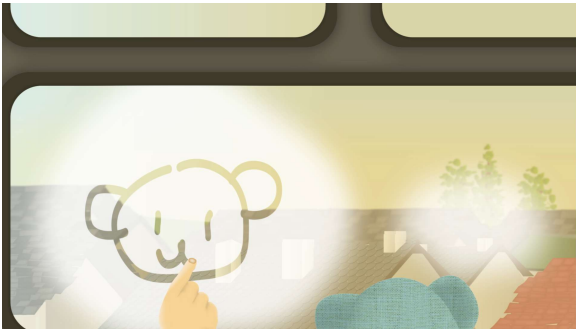

Good morning! That is the train man.
The train man wears a beautiful hat.
Good morning!

When I grow up, I'll be a train man too,
says Boris.
I'll have a hat.
And I'll blow the wistle.
Like so.

Boris blows and blows.
Bear blows and blows.
And look: they blow a cloud on the window.
Now, Boris cannot see the roofs anymore.

What now Boris?
Boris draws in the cloud on the window.
He draws Bear. Bear with a hat.

Look, Bear. Now you are the train man.
The train man with a hat.
